

How She Economizes!

I study advertisements and I know where and when and how to purchase the household supplies. My husband used to laugh at me for reading advertisements so carefully, but he has long since learned that I save many dollars every month. I know of no better way to practice economy. It is a wonder how soon you learn to detect the real from the false—intuitively almost. I think I have never been "taken in" by an advertisement. This is the experience of a bright lady who has practiced what we preach from week to week in our advertisements. We have the goods at the very lowest prices made anywhere. How can you economize, save money easier, than by getting your supplies of all kinds below the regular prices.

BOAT UPSET

On the Delaware River During a Severe Storm.

The Five Occupants of the Vessel Were Thrown Into the Water.

Only Two Succeeded in Reaching the Shore in Safety—A Storm at Asbury Park Did Great Damage Along the Coast and Inland.

GLOUCESTER CITY, N. J., June 15.—Early Sunday morning during a severe storm a row boat containing five persons capsized in the Delaware river off here and three of the occupants were drowned. The dead: Mrs. Hannah Richter, Mrs. Kate McCue, John Brewer.

Besides the three drowned the boat contained John McCue and Wm. Richter, husbands of the two women. Mrs. Richter sang in a concert hall here and her husband rowed her night across the river to their home in Philadelphia. In some way the boat containing the party overturned Sunday morning and in the swift current and heavy sea that was on Brewer and the woman could not hold on to the boat and were swept to their deaths. Richter and McCue, after a desperate struggle were carried ashore on the up turned boat. Richter and his wife were only married last Tuesday.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., June 15.—A northeast storm of unusual severity started in about 10 o'clock Saturday night, and before it had spent its fury did tens of thousands of dollars' worth of damage along the coast and inland. All night long the wind howled and blew with the velocity of a hurricane. Trees were uprooted and their branches torn off, signs were wrecked, awnings blown down and other damage sustained that littered the streets with miscellaneous articles. The fishing interests suffered a loss estimated at $40,000.

At Long Branch the principal damage was done to the iron pier. The outer guard piling were all torn up and washed on the beach.

Between Galilee and North Long Branch many pound nets were completely destroyed. This is the largest fishing section along the coast. No boats were run to the pier or the docks along the south shore of the Asbury river on account of the storm.

Atlantic Highlands many small craft were washed up on the beach and wrecked.

Sea Bright escaped with but little loss. South of Asbury Park the damage was also light. At 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon the storm subsided.

About 200 colored delegates and alternates attended, and there was great enthusiasm when Delegate Johnson, of Alabama, who has been accounted a McKinley man, spoke for Mr. Reed, as did Calkins, of New York, and Mr. J. EQUAL RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.

Free Coinage Would Unjustly Favor Silver for the Benefit of a Few.

The democratic state convention of South Carolina adopted a platform drawn by Senator Pitchfork Tillman which declared that "A sound and just system of finance is the most potent factor in a nation's prosperity, and we demand the restoration of the money of the constitution by giving silver the same rights and privileges given to gold. We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of sixteen to one."

It is true that the nation's prosperity depends on a sound and just system of finance. It is also true that silver should receive the same rights and privileges given to gold. But it is not true that these desirable ends would be attained by free silver at sixteen to one. On the contrary, that scheme violates every principle of sound and just finance, and is directly opposed to the great Jeffersonian doctrine of equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

It would be a waste of time to show that the free and unlimited coinage of silver dollars, the commercial value of which is only 51 cents, would be to give the country a most unsound currency. Nor is it needful to discuss the justice of a scheme for robbing creditors of one-half of the property they have loaned. These things are self-evident. But for the benefit of those persons who believe that our currency laws favor gold by giving it privileges denied to silver, it is necessary to state just what the government does for the two metals.

In stamping 25.8 grains of gold, 0.900 fine, "one dollar" the United States simply certifies to the weight and fineness of the coin. The mint stamp does not fix the value of the gold nor does it add to it in any way. Gold is coined at its market or bullion value.

With silver the government is more liberal. Over 422,000,000 silver dollars have been coined, in none of which is the metal of which they are composed worth their face value. The United States takes silver bullion now worth 65 cents per ounce and coins it into dollars at a ratio which implies that it is worth $1.29 per ounce. That such coins circulate at par is due to the government's declared policy of maintaining the parity of the two metals, nearly one-half of the value of the silver being thus flat, or depending on the country's credit.

The silverites do not want equal rights for the white and yellow metals, but special privileges for silver. They want free coinage at sixteen to one, so that, instead of coining silver at its commercial value, which is all that is done for gold, the government would declare that 37 1/2 grains of pure silver is worth as much as 23.22 grains of pure gold. Since the market ratio of the two metals is about 740 grains of silver to 23.22 of gold it can easily be seen that free coinage would be the rankest kind of favoritism to silver. Instead of asking for equal privileges the silver mine owners and their agents are trying to secure class legislation such as is given no other industry in the world.
